

ONE DAY DAY ALIENS

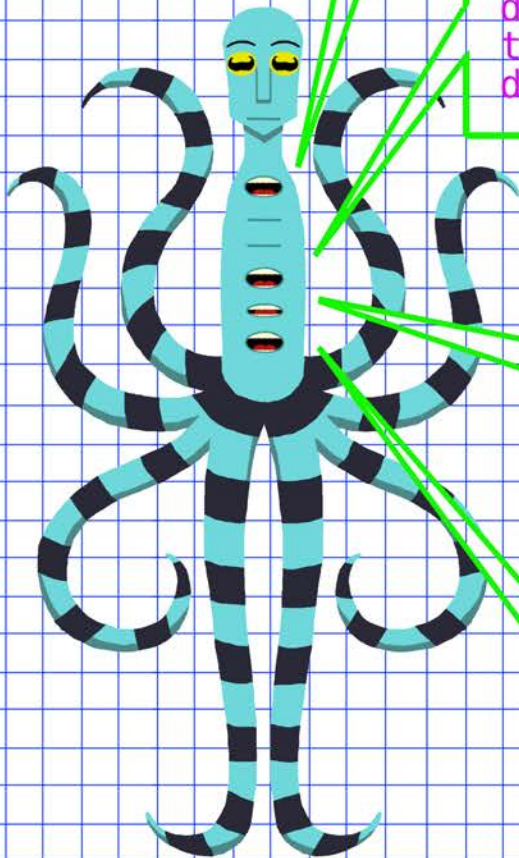

What is this?

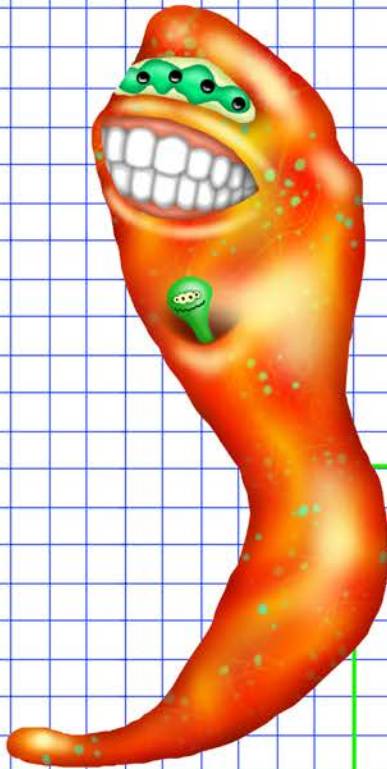

It's a book of aliens drawn by Miss Anna Latzer, artist and universe enthusiast.

For a while, Anna would draw an alien every day, to try out different drawing styles and ideas.

If you want to contact Anna for any reason, you can visit her website, www.annalatzer.com, where you can also find more of her artwork.

Happy Exploring!

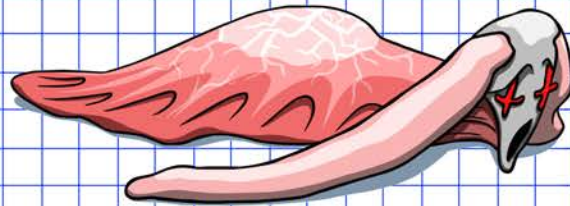

Earth Name: Amoeboid

A marsupial creature from another dimension. Reproduces by budding, and once the bud separates it remains nestled in its mother's pouch until it matures.

Planet: N/A

Earth Name: Sad Pierogi Lady

Slithers about and moans. Its body is a thin pulsing sac. It drags itself forward with its ears in its particularly despondent moods.

Planet: Pink Hell

Earth Name: Slugs

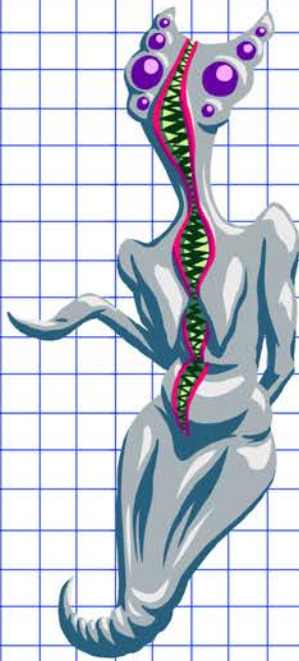

A ship of them crash landed on Earth, so now they have a small accidental Earth colony. They try very hard to blend in with human culture. They just want to be normal Earth citizens and adapt as much as they can.

Planet: United City

Earth Name: Paislord

The first ever paisley rug was an alien tapestry foretelling the coming of the Paislords from distant space, but Earthlings just thought it was a pretty pattern, so it caught on in Earth culture.

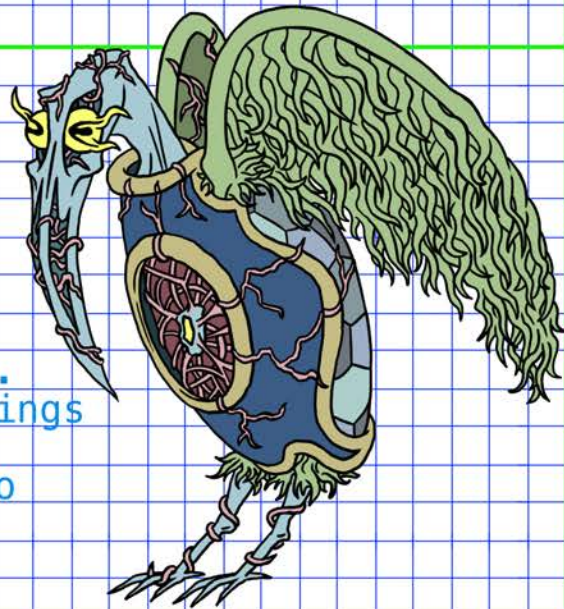

Planet: Paisley

Earth Name: Zipper Worm

It closes its entire body around its prey, like a deadly coin purse. An almost entirely female species.

Planet: Gynoch

Earth Name: Borb

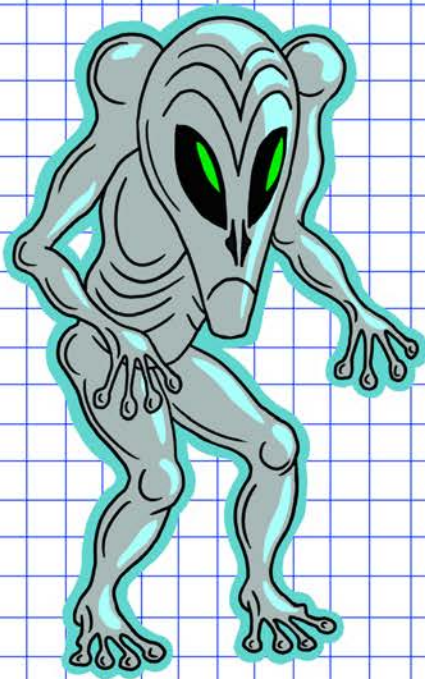

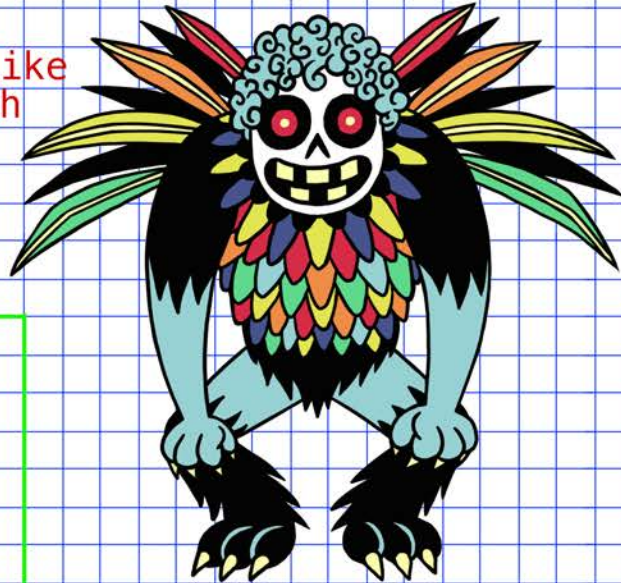

Its blood is pumped by a barnacle on its chest. The one specimen Earthlings have encountered is an elderly male referred to as Grandpa Borb.

Planet: Ocean Planet 27

Earth Name: Annibal

An excitable, childlike species obsessed with arts and crafts, practical or otherwise.

Planet: Wispsyche

Earth Name: "The Greys"

The alien species most well known to Earthlings. Has many sub-species. Actually will probe you, just as Earth authorities say.

Planet: somewhere in Zeta Reticuli star system

Earth Name: Blackbird

Can easily pick up any language it overhears. Hides and eavesdrops. Collects info to exchange for food. Sneaky.

Planet: United City

Earth Name: Quayd

Earth Name: Village

The residents of this roving village-organism are very shy and are rarely seen. The village-organism's brain sits in the top of its bell tower.

Planet: Sylvuss

Earth Name: Nipper

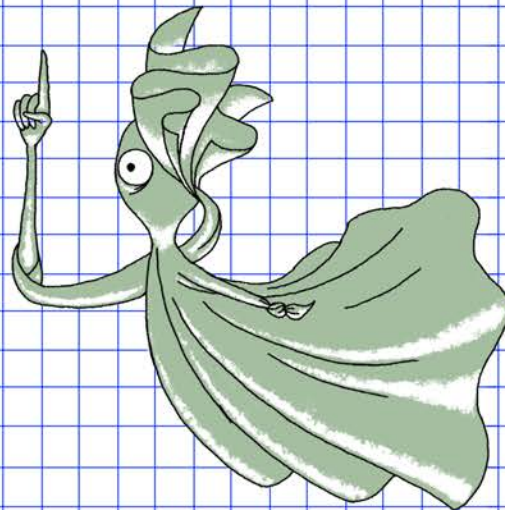

A small bipedal cave creature. It is quick and cunning, but shy. Speaks in a language of grunts, hisses and squeals. Likes to bite.

Planet: Canyonland

Earth Name: Ghostie

A ghost made of many condensed secrets. If all its secrets are found out, it ceases to exist.

Planet: Swallower

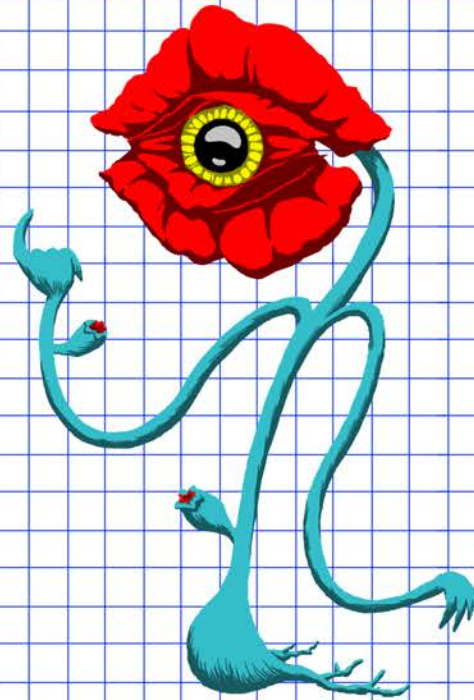

Earth Name: Missy

A species that communicates chiefly through dance. Only stops wiggling its bod if it is sick or sleeping.

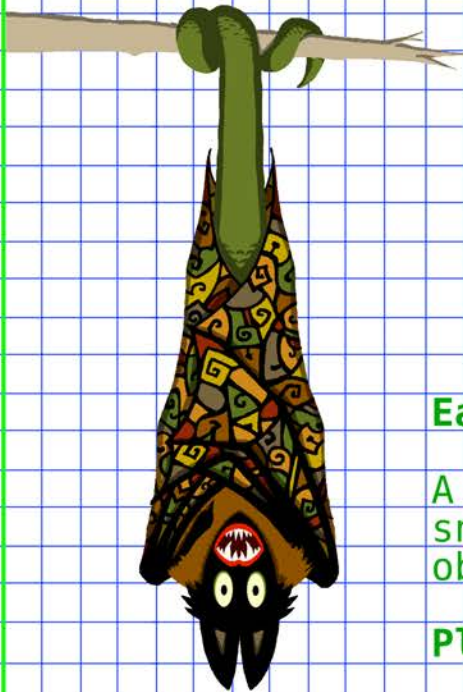

Planet: Boinga

Earth Name: Sun Face

It must stare up into the sun for at least half its planet's day to photosynthesize.

Planet: Chlorinoura

Earth Name: Whirlwing

A bat-like creature with a snake-like tail. Hoards objects within its wings.

Planet: Home Cave

Earth Name: Grudge

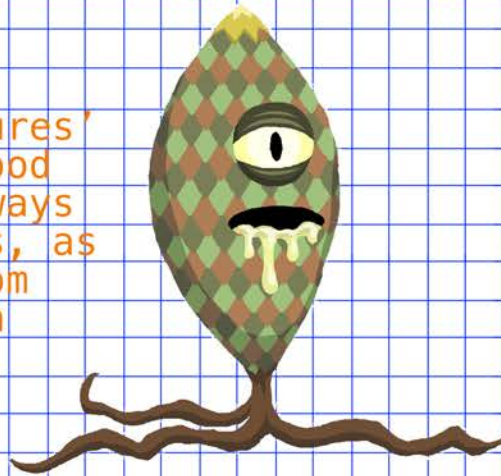

An entirely female species that seems to kill needlessly when it encounters other living organisms. They barf up wormholes, allowing them to warp anywhere they want.

Planet: Any/all

Earth Name: Back Grub

Clings onto other creatures' backs, sapping their blood and making them ill. Always feel very ill themselves, as they catch illnesses from the organisms they leech off of--Poorly adapted.

Planet: Dibbedoo

Earth Name: Lordships

A proud people living under a monarchy. They arm wrestle with their mustache-arms.

Planet: Ocean Planet 27

Earth Name: Leaflet

Its leaf-like skin is actually its photosynthetic clothing that can be shed or worn by choice. A tiny but advanced people.

Planet: Chlorinoura

Earth Name: Doxan

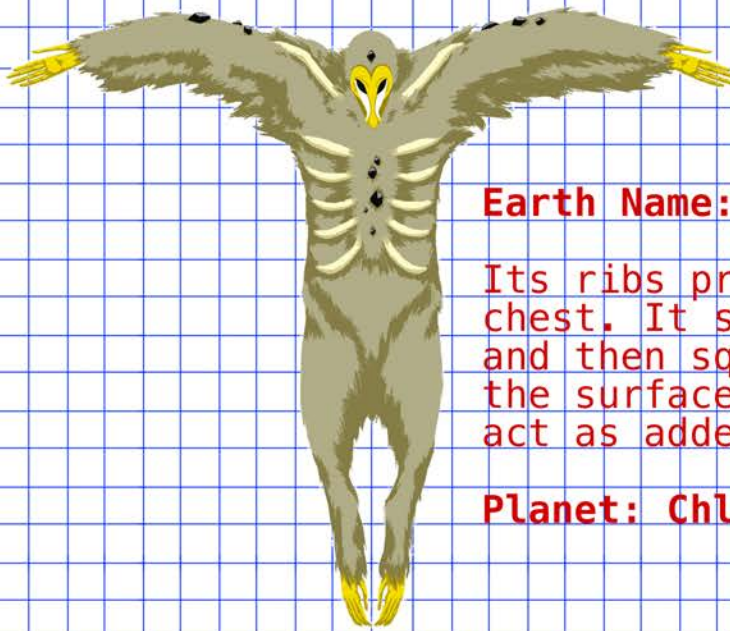

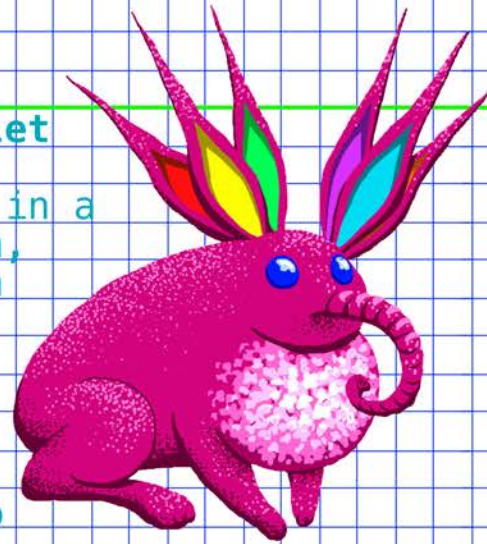

Their species contains a large human-obsessed subculture in which they try to dress like and otherwise emulate humans.

Planet: United City

Earth Name: Fibblet

Stores its eggs in a sack on its chin, until they hatch and the baby fibblets are ejected from its trunk.

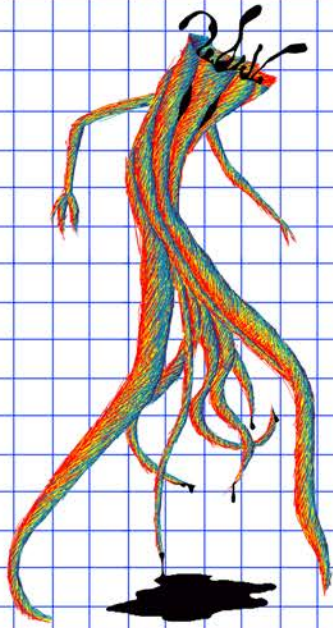

Planet: Dibbedoo

Earth Name: Bone Ape

Its ribs protrude from its chest. It swallows rocks and then squeezes them to the surface of its skin to act as added armour.

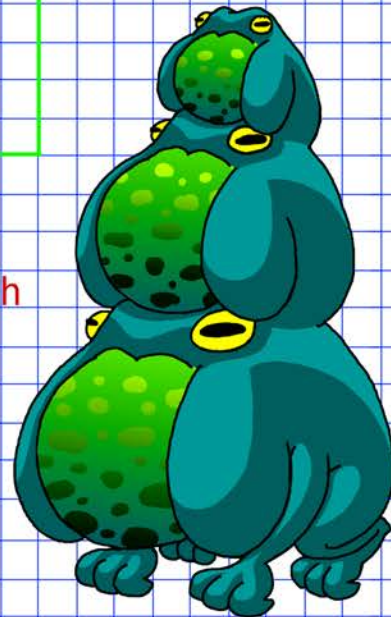

Planet: Chlorinoura

Earth Name: Big Dropper

Constantly bleeding everywhere.
Is most at home in the messiest environments.

Planet: Wispsyche

Earth Name: Stacked Frogs

Seems to be able to grow
stacks up to thirty heads high
before it loses its balance.

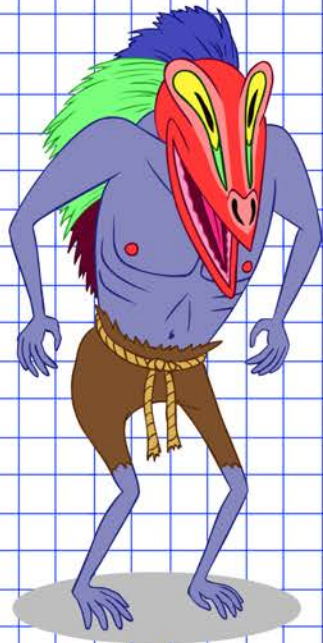

Planet: Swampug

Earth Name: The Littlest Universe

A tiny newborn universe.
What great species will it
house one day?

Planet: N/A

Earth Name: Boonman

A hermaphroditic species with no teeth. They simply crush their food in their strong jaws and swallow. Very friendly, but can become warlike in an instant if offended.

Planet: Swampug

Earth Name: Cairn Crab

Feeds on dead bodies. The rocks on its back are fleshy inside.

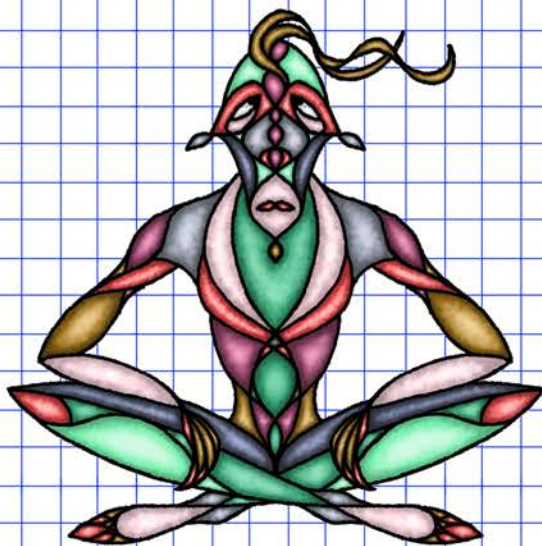

Planet: Canyonland

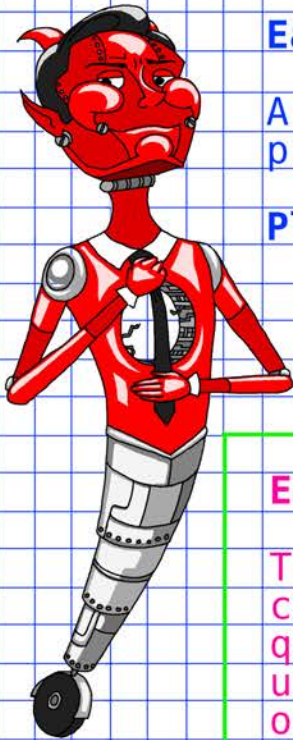

Earth Name: Glassman

A pulsating, multi-colored, and slightly transparent species that values philosophy above all.

Planet: 999KK~

Earth Name: Business Bot

A heartless little demon programmed for business.

Planet: United City

Earth Name: Ginelle

This human-like creature's natural qualities are virtually unknown, as it is obsessed with severe body modification.

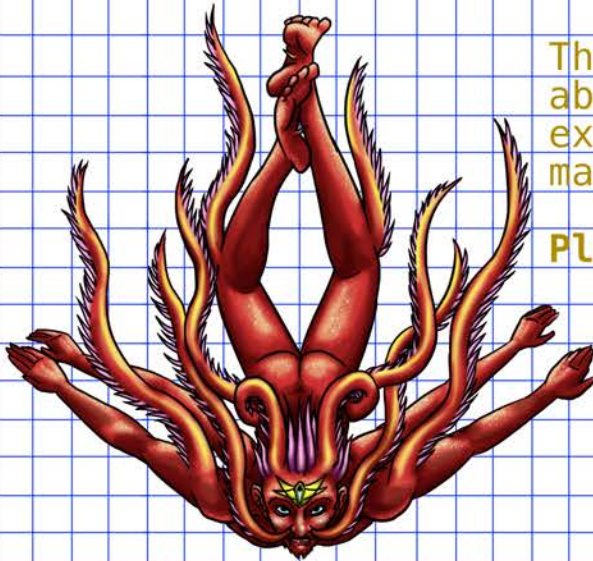

Planet: Salazar Morangue

Frougn

A very anxious and guarded creature. Likes its space. Only jumps straight up high into the air.

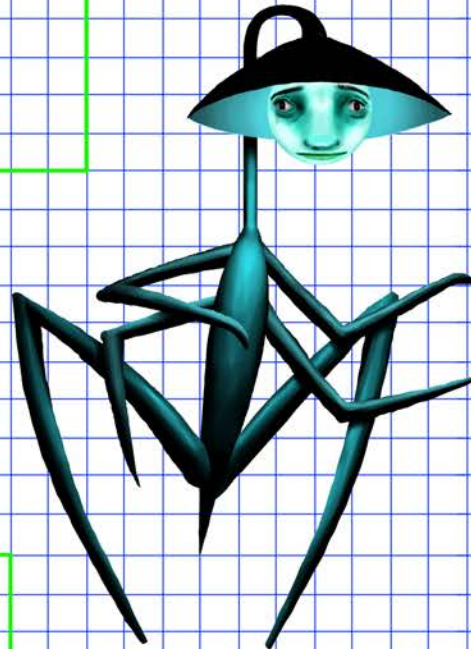

Planet: Big Ol' Alpha

Earth Name:

This species learns about the world, and expresses itself, mainly through sex.

Planet: Ocean Planet 27
